LOCAL MATTERS.

To our Subscribers .- We would call the attention of those who are indebted to us throughout the country, that the old year is closing and their accounts are not yet settled. The price of subscription is not large, and will not be missed from their plethoric pockets. The first of January has long been celebrated as a day set apart for closing old accounts, and we would not have our friends depart from this time-honored custom. Money is the motive power of every enterprise, and newspapers are no exception, and we respectfully ask our country subscribers to cash up and commence the new year with a clear record.

AT a meeting of the Board of Firemasters, held on Wednesday evening, January 16, the following gentlemen were elected:

Mr. CHAS. P. AIMAR, Third Assistant Chief. Mr. B. M. STROBEL, Clerk and Superintendent. Mr. H. C. SHOKES, Pump Contractor.

Under the recent Act of the Legislature incorporating Kingstree, the following officers were elected to the offices named, viz: SAMUEL W. MAURICE, Interdant.
WARDENS.—JOHN G. PRESSLEY, G. P. NELSON, M. SCHUAISS, W. W. WARD.

FIRE.—An alarm sounded last evening, about 6 o'clock, that Bennett's Mill was on fire, brought out the firemen, who rushed to the scene of action only to find their energies uselessly expended, and they returned homewards with diminished speed. Later in the evening it was reported that a chimney in Magazine street was on fire. It was soon extinguished, and the alarm was not sufficient to bring out the engines.

THE SUPERINTENDENT of the Northeastern Railroad Company has our thanks for a kind remembrance of our editorial wants. Knowing that the monotony of long and unvaried city life tends to dull the faculties, he has considerately sent us an invitation to take an occasional ride into the country, and see for ourselves the progress our friends in the rural part; are making. A like courtesy has been extended us by the Superintendent of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad Company.

THE BALL last night, at the Hall of the Bruder liche Bund, in King street, was one of the most this season. It was given under the auspice of Schiller Lodge No. 30, I. O. O. F., a new Lodge, but one that bids fair ere long to run ahead of many of her older sisters. The Hall was filled with gay and merry dancers, just as many as the Hall could hold, and under the witching strains of MULLER's Band, they tripped the light fantastic to a late hour of the night. Mr. Von HAARDTER furnished a handsome supper.

The Committee of Arrangements deserve much credit for the handsome manner in which every thing had been prepared.

DISTRICT COURT.—This court was in session to day at the usual hour, Judge Logan presiding. A number of cases of larceny and assault and battery were tried-some, as on previous days, being decided by the court. H. W. SCHRUDER, RUDOLPH SIEGLING, JAMES

LOWNDES and JAMES SIMONS, Esqs., defended some of the cases—the prosecution in each instance being conducted by Isaac HAYNE, Esq. From five to six cases are disposed of every day, and although the docket is very heavy, at this rate the list will rapidly diminish.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT-Hon. GEORGE nesses were examined on the part of the defence, who testified that the segars from Baracoa were of an inferior character and were never imported Miss Bute is at the Mills House. to this market; that they cost but little there, and the duties being the same on all brands, dealers only used the better qualities. The market price of the segars exhibited in court (those that were seized) was $30 to $35 per 1000 for the second quality, and from $40 to $50 per $1000 for the better. The profit on segars was very uncertain, as dealers were often obliged to sell at cost, and to realize the difference on better brands.

A lengthy argument arose on points of evidence during the testimony of the witnesses in reply, and the discussion was continued to a late hour. The case will be resumed to-day at 11 A. M.

MAYOR'S COURT, January 17 .- Elias Robertson and Paul Green, two unfaithful colored stewards of a steamboat, who had appropriated to their own use a large amount of money belonging to a passenger, were sent to a Magistrate for prosecution. A youthful speculator, who had endeavored to dispose of several iron bolts belonging to the a junk-shop, who brought him up before his Honor, was discharged with a lecture, as a witness stated that the boy had found them on Gadsden's A man and two females, who had walked from Summerville on their road to Graham's Turn Out, by the way of the city, and who had sampled some of the luxuries which abound in the corner shops to such an extent as to impede their locomotion but who had recruited after a nap, were allowed to proceed on their way, as they evidently were a committee about carrying out some grand social reform, and were in a great hurry to get off.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS AND COMMON PLEAS .- The Court met at 10 A. M., pursuant to adjournment, Judge T. N. Dawkins presiding. The Grand Jury having answered to their names, the following bills were presented, which were returned with the findings: The State vs. Thos. Harrington-murder. True Bill.

The State vs. Wm. J. Gilfillin—embezzlement.

The State vs. Angelo Mauro, Jno. B. Fatalico and Vengenzo Ottojano-arson. No Bill.

In the case of the State vs. DANIEL JENKINS, for murder, the prisoner was arraigned and plead "not guilty," and the trial was fixed for Thursday, Jan-The case of the State vs. Isabella Clark (colored), for burglary, was then taken up. L. W. SPRATT, R. W. SEYMOUR, and SAMUEL LORD, Jr., Esqrs., appeared for the defence, and the Attorney General for the prosecution. After a number of challenges the Jury was organized, and Mrs. MARY GALLOWAY being sworn, deposed that she kept a store at No. 197 King street, in connection with her mother, and was living there at the time of the burglary. They had missed a number of articles constantly, but on the day in question had put $325 aside for the purpose of paying a note. $30 of this amount was missing the next morning. That night (Isabella being sick) she went to her room to carry her some physic, and while there noticed a shirt and some other articles that belonged to the store; her suspicions being aroused, the woman was sent out the next morning, and, while absent, her room was searched. A number of missing articles were found concealed in her bed, also some false keys with which she obtained access to the store. . The woman slept over the kitchen, and could only obtain access to the store at night.

Mrs CHUPEIN substantiated the testimony of the first witness in every particular, and said that she was present at the search, and identified the articles found and those brought into court as a part of Mrs. Galloway's stock. She also testified to having found the bunch of keys that were used to open the different locks.

The Attorney-General waived the burglary, the larceny being made out. The opposite counsel acted to the jury without argument, who returned a verdict of guilty of petty larceny.

THE KINGSTREE FIRE.-It will be seen, by reference to an extract in another column from the Star, that the sheriff and jailor of Williamsburg District were arrested by order of Gen. Scorr, Military Commandant, pro tem, in South Carolina. This arrest, we believe, is for alleged criminal carelessness and neglect of duty.

THE AMERICAN LAW REVIEW, January, 1867. Boston, Little, Brown & Co.
Contents: 1. Wallace's Report; 2. Theories of Reconstruction; 3. Estates upon Condition; 4. Luther Martin; 5. Digest of English Law Reports; 6. Digest of Laws in U.S. Supreme Court; 7. Selected Digest of American State Reports; 8. Book Notices; 9. List of Law Books published since 1st September, 1866; 10. Summary of Events. We take pleasure in recommending this work to members of the Bar, both for what it is and what it is not; both because it contains a great deal of law, and because it contains no politics. It gives the earliest notice, in condensed form, of decisions in this country and England; it permanently records many which will never be reported, and, in the last three articles, gives a great deal of interesting information in regard to books and matters connected with the law, while the original articles are not of much value to the profession, they will be found to possess merit. That upon Reconstruction, by HURD, the author of "Habeas Corpus," may not present palatable conclusions, but is written in a judicial spirit, and the review of Waliace's Report is a just rebuke of the flippancy of the Supreme Court of the United States. The critic, however, fails to object to the epithet "Corsair," invariably applied to the Alabama by Mr. WAL-

THE GERMAN LUTHERAN CHURCE.—The old church, corner Hasei and Anson streets-hitherto the only house of worship of our Protestant German population-has for some time been found too small to accommodate the increasing congregation. There is a German population in Charleston of between four and five thousand; and we may look forward, ere long, to large accessions. There have been, for some time past, no less than fifty applications for pews that could not be filled. This matter has been under consideration for some time, and at last it was resolved upon to erect a new church edifice. On the 10th instant the Vestry purchased the property formerly occupied by Father O'NEILL, on the west side of King street, a few doors south of Vanderhorst street. The lot has 125 feet front on King street, and is 1594 feet deep.

This location is central, and in one of the finest parts of the city. It is the design of the vestry to construct a large and handsome church and a school house, with ample accommodations. The Sunday School attached to this congregation now numbers 325 pupils, and Mr. HOPFMAN'S German Day School 180 children, the best possible proof that the heart of the people is in the work.

The meeting on Wednesday night was well attended, a large number, both of communicants and members of the congregation, being present. The meeting approved of the action of the Vestry. I. O. O. F.-At the annual communication of the | It was resolved that the old Church shall be sold. as soon as a suitable opportunity shall present

Committees were appointed to canvass the city, and solicit voluntary contributions, and as we know our German fellow-citizens for years have helped others of every denomination to build their churches, we hope that a helping hand will be lent them in return, now that they are in need. There are many Germans here of wealth and position some doing a large and lucrative business, and we cannot doubt that they will be animated with a spirit of liberality, and come forward with a handsome contribution. It was also resolved, at the proper time, to have

The following encomium from one of the most distinguished divines of Europe shows that the exhibition is deserving of the many and complimentary notices it has received from the press of this country: "St. James' Hall was filled last evening to its utmost capacity.
